Question for Officials

Question No: 02

Question For: Protest Committee

Question:

In the last few months and year, wingfoiling gear has seen an unprecedented acceleration of equipment size, technology and price. To combat this, you (Wingfoil racing committee) created formula wing events with the EXPRESS PURPOSE of prohibiting non-accessible prototype equipment. Between Wings and Foils, this set of protests we are writing here anonymously expresses the broader community sentiment that those individuals, for whom we will all be launching protests against, are eroding the rules and setting a weak precedent for these events.

This is our second protest in our greater movement to have the integrity of these events maintained. To this regard, JP Lattanzi has been using a PPC prototype wing that is explicitly and without any form of confusion, unavailable to the public and an unfinished product. The wing's canopy colour, inlets, naming and profile are all custom from the standard of what their supposed "Sonic" should be, and beyond the wing being available at this current moment to team riders and close friends, JP has taken it a step further and continues to use a prototype that was once and is still Sean Herberts.

It is our collective view that this is a stark and inexcusable offense, as the model in itself is completely unavailable, and it is entirely a prototype wing, unregistered on the formula wing documentation.

By allowing him to race with this prototype wing, this committee has created an event that explicitly violates class standards and subsequently demonstrates to us the racing community that the committee undermines its own authority and credibility. It suggests a willingness to bend under pressure—whether from athletes, sponsors, or manufacturers—rather than protect the long-term integrity of the sport. Rules in racing are not just guidelines; they are commitments between competitors and organizers that the competition will be fair, transparent, and consistent. When those rules are bent for convenience, the entire competitive structure is weakened. This sets a dangerous precedent: if the committee is willing to compromise once, what else will they compromise on in the future, and moreover, what is to prevent the likes of Freddie, JP and others returning next season with oversized unavailable wings and blatant prototypes.

We ask that this is looked into with and JP and individuals who we see are using prototype or unavailable wings AT THIS CURRENT MOMENT should be penalised with greater force. It degrades the integrity of the sport and of myself and the other riders who are using our production wings, in reasonable sizes and that are available for consumers to purchase themselves.

For a class that is looking to potentially go olympic, this is frankly a disgrace and should not be tolerated, especially at the very first "formula wing world cup"

We look forward to hearing your response to the broader community.

Answer:

Sailing is a self policing sport.

Competitors are governed by a body of rules that they are expected to follow and enforce. If you believe that a fellow competitor has broken a rule, you should protest. The protest procedure, which includes that a protest cannot be anonymous, is described in the rules.
